

BOB'S OPPONENT IS A FIGHTER

David Rose, of Milwaukee the Democratic Nominee for Governor.

SCENE OF HARMONY

William F. Vilas Welcomed Back to the Party's Ranks.

GREAT FIGHT IS ON

(Special A. D. Dispatch.) Milwaukee, Sept. 4.—David S. Rose, mayor of Milwaukee, is the democratic nominee for governor of the state of Wisconsin in opposition to Robert M. LaFollette. He was chosen by the democratic convention in session here yesterday on the first ballot by a vote of 335 to his nearest competitor's 103. It was an overwhelming victory for the Milwaukee man and the scene in the convention hall and afterwards was one of enthusiasm beyond description.

Vilas Honored
The whole convention was one of harmony. The appearance of William F. Vilas on the floor of the convention was the cause for an outburst of enthusiasm on the part of the delegates and the old time leader of Wisconsin democracy held an informal reception over his return to the councils of the party. Ex-Senator Vilas left the democratic party in 1896 at the outbreak of the silver craze and this is his first appearance before the councils of the party since.

No Bryanism
No mention was made of Bryan or Bryanism by anyone in the convention except once in Col. Bird's nominating speech of Burr W. Jones, when he was casually mentioned. The whole convention was fraught with the best of feeling among the delegates and enthusiasm was shown over the apparent unity of the party. It was a love feast in which the old element of free silver and platformers of the Chicago and Kansas City type were entirely left in the shade and the old lines of democracy were again brought from the shelves where they have lain since 1896 and dusted off for future use.

Rose Plans
Mayor Rose would not say what his campaign plans are, but it is safe to assert that he will begin a vigorous campaign of the fight order at once and continue it until the bitter end. Rose is a fighter of the modern type and is a forceful speaker. He will not spare himself or his friends if he conducts the same campaigns that he has in the past.

HAYTI MAY BE ANNEXED SOON

It is Believed To Be the Only Solution Out of the Present Trouble.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 4.—(Special.)—The annexation of the island of Hayti, in the West Indies, by the government of the United States in the near future is by no means improbable. The necessity for taking action in the matter has been discussed by President Roosevelt with some of his advisers. For some time past the conditions in Hayti have been such as seriously affect that island. Revolutions, which have always been frequent ever since the colored native population attempted to govern the island, have of late grown more frequent, and the presence of American men-of-war has been required not only to protect American interests but also to see that the other foreigners in the island were not personally ill-treated or robbed of their property.

No Government
Reports from the island make it plain that the people have no government in the ordinary sense of the word and that neither life nor property are safe.

FIRE RUINS ILLINOIS TOWN

Loss of $50,000 Caused in Ashmore by Fierce Blaze.

Charleston, Ill., Sept. 4.—Ashmore, a village ten miles east of here, was visited by a fire which caused $50,000 loss. J. G. Herman's elevator, mill, corn cribs and broomcorn warehouse were burned to the ground, entailing a loss of $15,000. Over 300 tons of broomcorn belonging to the Union Broom Supply Company of Chicago, stored in the warehouse, was burned. The brush was valued at $35,000. The loss is largely covered by insurance. Ashmore has no fire protection and only vigorous work with a bucket brigade saved another elevator, the Big Four depot and residence property.

GRAND TRUNK MAKING DEALS

Buys Toledo & Detroit Shore Line and Has Others in View.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 4.—It is said here that General Manager Hays of the Grand Trunk has completed arrangements for the purchase of the Detroit and Toledo Shore Line by the Grand Trunk and that there are still other deals to be made, probably a traffic arrangement with the Clover Leaf, to give the Grand Trunk entrance to St. Louis.

WANTED---TOUT, TO STEER THE 400

New York Gambler Willing to Pay $10,000 a Year to the Right Party.

New York, Sept. 4.—(Special.)—Wanted—A young man of good family, but reduced circumstances, well acquainted among the Four Hundred to act as tout for a gambling house; salary, $10,000 a year to the right party. Apply to Frank Farrell, Thirty-third street, just behind the Waldorf-Astoria. This is a "want ad." that did not appear in this form, but the news has gone abroad that the proprietor of the new gambling palace with which he proposes to equip Richard Canfield's glory as the king of gamblers, is looking for a society man of the proper qualifications and is willing to pay well for his services.

After Society
It is society that Farrell wants to attract to his place. He knows every turfman in the east, and is sure of their patronage. And this patronage is enough to assure him that he will have plenty of money to pay the attendants in livery that throng his palace, provide the funds for the myriads of electric lights, keep the wolf, in the shape of the police from the door, and leave enough over to buy a few diamonds now and then. But this is not enough for Farrell. He wants the patronage of the men who travel around in steam yachts, break records in automobiles, go to playground parties, and drink pink tea in the intervals between buying or selling railroads or copper mines. This patronage, heretofore, has been exclusively Canfield's, and to get a share of it Farrell is willing to pay $10,000 annually—or more—to an aristocratic tout.

Vienna, Sept. 4.—News has been received here from Tiflis, Transcaucasia, Russia, of a landslide which occurred Aug. 17 in the vicinity of Mount Kasbek, and which resulted in the destruction of some twenty villages and the loss of 700 lives. Seismic disturbances seem to have started a glacier, which swept down a valley and destroyed everything in its path. On the northern slope of Mount Kasbek lies the watering place of Tmenkau. Early in the morning of Aug. 17 subterranean disturbances were noted at Tmenkau, but the hundreds of bathes in the hot springs there scouted the idea of a catastrophe and in spite of warnings continued their bathing.

FIGHTING STARTS

Fleet Bombards Signal Stations Without Effective Results.

THE ARMY IS AHEAD

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.) Ft. Trumbull, Conn., Sept. 4.—(Army Headquarters)—The Cruiser Brooklyn, which went ashore at Newport harbor last night is lying in an easy position this morning and in no danger. This is the second time that the Brooklyn has gone aground since she was launched. Once several years ago in the Delaware river at Philadelphia and now.

Fighting Begins Again
Three battleships this morning shelled the signal station off Great Farms without effect. The officer in charge of the station says that the fleet was too far off shore to put him out of action.

In Other Places
The fighting continued along the entire coast and the signal station at Montague Point was shelled for some hours in the hopes of putting it out of action and landing marines to capture the station. The army thus far claims the advantage.

STREET CAR RUNS INTO AN ICE WAGON

Motorman Applies the Brakes, and the Damage Done Was Comparatively Small.

Wednesday morning as the Main street car of the city railway line was bowling along merrily near the Main street greenhouse the motorman, L. Hankey, saw an ice wagon leisurely making its way down the track ahead. He rang the bell repeatedly at the same time applying the brakes.

It was not until too late that the driver of the wagon, which belonged to the Crystal Lake Ice company, heard the warning. He started to turn off the track but just as the last wheels were leaving the rails the car crashed into it. There was so little momentum that the only damage inflicted was the breaking of the glass window of the vestibule of the car and the splintering of the framework.

The car was quickly run up to the car barns, the vestibules were removed and the car continued its trips as usual, none the worse for its collision.

NEWS OF ACCIDENT CAUSED ANXIETY

General Alarm for President Roosevelt's Safety Occasioned by Exaggerated Reports.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 4.—(Special.)—Keenest anxiety was displayed by the people of Washington when the news of the accident to the President was received. Rumors that the president had been seriously injured quickly started, and the extent of the accident was magnified as it spread through the departments. There was evident an apprehensiveness similar to that which prevailed a little less than a year ago, when President McKinley was shot at Buffalo. But at no time was there even a definite rumor that the president had been killed.

Soon after the accident Colonel Montgomery, chief telegrapher at the White House received a message stating that Craig had been killed and that the other members of the party had been badly bruised, but that the president was not seriously injured, stating that Craig had been killed and was one of the best men in that branch of the government employ, and he was in many respects a notable character. The news of his death caused widespread regret in Washington. Craig was known to far more people by sight than he was personally or even by name. He was "the man who shadows the President." Chief Wilde had supreme confidence in him. His colleagues in the secret service liked him, and the President, although a little less than a year ago when his administration opened, he was averse to the necessary surveillance of the secret service, had grown to admire him. The Roosevelt children were extremely fond of him and constantly clamored that he show them some new wrestling trick which he was well qualified to do.

SPOONER WINS GREAT VICTORY

Congressional Convention at Portage Rejects Machine Candidate.

ADAMS THE CHOICE

In His Speech of Acceptance He Eulogizes Senator Spooner.

LEITSCH MEN BOLT

(Special A. D. Dispatch.) Madison, Wis., Sept. 4.—Henry C. Adams of Madison was yesterday nominated for congress from the second congressional district held at Portage. His victory was a clean cut one and when it was found that he must win the supporters of William C. Leitsch, the choice of the executive machine for the nomination, walked out from the convention amid the hisses of the Adams men. Their action has been severely criticised and the manner in which they exhibited the rule or rule policy is not approved of by any of the leading republicans.

It Was A Bolt
The bolt was made by the Columbia, Marquette and first district from Jefferson men when it was decided that the mix-up in the Jefferson county delegates was decided against the Leitsch delegates. The remaining delegates staid in the hall and proceeded with the business of nominating H. C. Adams. They endorsed President Roosevelt, Senator Spooner and Quarles, praised retiring congressman, Dahle, and endorsed the republican state platform.

Adams' Speech
H. C. Adams was brought into the convention hall and made a characteristic speech in which he endorsed Senator John C. Spooner for the United States senate without any restrictions. The summary of his speech was:

He was profoundly grateful for the honor conferred; that he had never walked out of a republican convention or cut a republican ticket; that he had carried on his campaign in a fair and upright manner and had come out of it with clean hands and a clean conscience; that he favored the re-election of Senator Spooner without conditions; that he stood squarely upon the state platform and would labor for the election of the state ticket; that the republican party ought to forget its old quarrels and labor harmoniously for the good of the people; and that he believed the good sense and good judgment of the people of the district and the state would cause them to roll up the usual majorities this fall.

He was frequently interrupted with applause, his reference to Senator Spooner especially being warmly received.

EVANSVILLE FAIR DRAWS CROWDS

Good Time Made in the Races, and the Attractions Are Fine.

(Special To The Gazette.) Evansville, Wis., Sept. 4.—The attendance of the county fair Wednesday was about 3,000. The races were very interesting and were closely contested from the start to the finish. The specialties were good and the Indians' game of LaCrosse was one of the features of the day. The results of the races were as follows: 2:50 class strot; mile heats; Spele S. won first; Prince Howe, second; Alice, third; time, 2:34. 2:40 class; mile heats; Pearl C. won first; Helen M., second and Lady Wheeler third; time, 2:27 3-4. Half mile running race; Comonana won first; Pink Jacket, second, and Starlight, third; time, 53 seconds. The crowd today is not as large as was expected, but the fact of the circus in Janesville explains that. The races are excellent and the track is in the best of condition for fast time being made. Many horses from Janesville, Beloit and Clinton are on the cars to start today.

Plenty of Fun
There is plenty of fun on the grounds and the shows are all doing a lively business. The LaCrosse game between the Indians was so good that there is talk of having it repeated later in the week. Friday is to be the big day and the events promise to be most interesting to all.

FEDERAL COURT HELPS GATES

Colorado Fuel Fight Taken Away From State Judges.

Bartlett for an injunction to restrain the Colorado Fuel and Iron company from holding its annual election of officers. Attorneys for John W. Gates and associates, who are seeking to gain control of the company, petitioned the federal court to assume jurisdiction in the case, and the application was granted by Judge H. C. Caldwell.

THE SUNDAY SHOW IN JANESVILLE

COUNCIL PUTS AN END TO BITTER CONTROVERSY.

PROHIBITS SUNDAY THEATERS

Ordinance Passed at an Adjourned Meeting Last Evening—Other Business of Importance.

That the council is not in favor of Sunday evening theatrical performances was clearly shown last evening at its adjourned meeting. This is the first move in the plan mapped out by the council to raise the moral standard of the city. Things have been running altogether too open to suit the council and they have determined that the Sunday closing law shall be more closely observed. Sunday evening theaters are considered bad things for the morals of the city and the council does not wish to add anything to what the city already has in the immoral line.

Only Hits Theater As far as the ordinance is concerned it only hits theaters and places of amusement but under a strict construction of the state law all places doing business on Sunday can be closed. If the theatrical ordinance is no more strictly passed than some other Sunday closing ordinances it might as well not have been passed.

The ordinance was presented by Alderman Murray, chairman of the license committee and put through under suspension of the rules and reads as follows:

The Ordinance.
An Ordinance to Prevent Theatrical and Other Exhibitions, Shows and Amusements on Sunday.

The Mayor and the Common Council of the City of Janesville do Ordain as follows:

Section 1. No person or persons, within the limits of the city of Janesville, shall exhibit to the public, for gain any circus, menagerie, theatrical performance, musical entertainment, or any other show, exhibition, entertainment or performance whatever on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday.

Section 2. No owner or manager of any hall, opera house or theater within the limits of the city of Janesville, shall suffer or permit any such hall, opera house or theater to be kept open for the purpose of giving any of the entertainments mentioned in this ordinance, for gain, on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday.

Section 3. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance shall pay a penalty of not more than one hundred dollars nor less than ten dollars.

Section 4. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication.

The Council.
Mayor Richardson presided at the meeting and a full board of aldermen were present at roll call.

The plans and specifications for a sewer on High street and Wall street were presented and referred to the highway committee who reported favorably on them and they were adopted.

The report of the city treasurer for August was referred to the finance committee. The appointment by the mayor of George Phelps as special police without pay was confirmed. The sidewalk grade on Court street from Division to Wisconsin street was adopted. The finance committee reported favorably on a large list of bills and the clerk was instructed to draw orders on the treasurer for them. The mayor was also instructed to borrow $4,000 and place it to the credit of the general fund.

Asks Postponement.
Thomas S. Nolan was present at the meeting representing the Janesville street railway company and asked that the suit brought by the city against the road be postponed for a couple of months to allow the company to remedy the defects in the road. His petition was granted and the city attorney was instructed to adjourn the case for two months.

The report of the assistant street commissioner of sidewalks built was adopted and the clerk instructed to serve notice on the property owners.

More Paving.
An order for the paving of that part of Milwaukee street between the east end of the bridge and Main street was passed, allowing the property owners to pave the street with brick using macadam for a foundation.

The street commissioner was instructed to clean the loose stones off the streets and to see that the planking between the railroad tracks at the Five Points crossing and at the Western avenue crossing was put in good shape.

The Ordinance.
The Sunday theater ordinance was introduced by Alderman Murray and given its first and second readings. On motion of Mr. Murray the rules of the council were suspended and the ordinance was given its third reading and put upon its passage.

The chairman of the highway committee and the health officer were empowered to purchase ten garbage cans to be placed in the city alleyways, to see if the existing conditions could not be improved.

High Street Sewers.
The city clerk was ordered to advertise for bids for the construction of the sewer on High and Wall streets the same to be opened on September 15 at 2 p. m.

The mayor presented the following list of officers and clerks to preside at the coming election.

A brick crosswalk was ordered across Prospect avenue on the west side of North Bluff street and board crosswalks on the north and south sides of Prairie avenue at the intersection of Hyatt street and on Yuba street at the intersection of Walker street. It took three ballots to decide the janitorship of the city hall. There were three candidates, they being George Phillips, J. C. Burdick and John O'Donnell.

Phillips received six votes on the third ballot and was declared elected. The salary was left with the building committee to fix and report at the next meeting.

The clerk was instructed to draw an order on the general fund in favor of James Rowson & Son for $1,000. The council then adjourned.

PAID THE PRICE FOR STOLEN RIDE

AN ATHLETE'S CONSCIENCE

It Was a Trifle Slow, But It Finally Responded to Its Sense of Right.

Every evangelist has his fund of death bed repentance anecdotes ready to retail on all occasions. Now and then the news leaks out of a bank defaulter who, from a far country has sent a check to the institution he robbed, or of a swindler who after years had passed made good the victim's loss. A somewhat similar case occurred in this city this week.

Stole a Ride.
Early last spring a base ball team from one of the institutions of learning of the state was stranded in this city for a few hours between trains. Several members of the nine took occasion to stroll about the city. Among them two happened to return towards the depot just as one of the hotel busses set out in the same direction.

Despite their athletic training they decided that it would be more comfortable to ride than walk. Quietly they made their way up the steps of the rig and seated themselves within. Arriving at the station they leaped out, believing that the driver was unaware of the fact that he had been scattering seeds of kindness. The latter individual did not take that view of the situation.

Demand His Fare.
One of the drivers escaped unseen, but as the other who may be referred to as Jones was walking down the platform with all of the dignity of a Wall street financier, he was lightly touched on the shoulder by the driver of the hack and reminded that he had forgotten to pay his fare. In spite of all his protestations of innocence, ignorance and all the cardinal virtues, his creditor was firm.

Two Attacked One.
Finding his arguments unavailable the athlete started to walk off in disgust. He was grasped by the driver who is not puny of build, and backed up against the depot. Things were not going well for the man who had been backed, when another member of the team came up. Seeing a fellow collegian in distress leaped to the rescue. A struggle held around the busman's neck, a little muscle rightly directed, and the base ball players had things their own way.

Called Police.
The train was standing on the track ready to pull out, and the two men made a run for it. Jones, to use that name for the sake of disguising his identity, was clothed in gait pants, and a white hat. Taking a seat that his limbs might be hidden from sight, and changing his hat with another member of the team he buried himself in a book. In a few minutes the hackman entered with a member of the local police force. The man with the white hat was quickly pounced upon, but he wore long trousers. After a few minutes' fruitless search the driver left the car amid a chorus of jeers and raillies.

Touched With Remorse.
A few days ago this same athlete Jones was in Janesville and seeing the driver across the street was reminded of the affair. Perhaps pangs of remorse touched his heart, or it may have been that he had had a good dinner and felt kindly toward the world. At any rate it led him to give a quarter to an old acquaintance to be delivered to its rightful owner. Strong as he might be he did not care to again combat his former antagonist, or to reveal his identity.

Paid the Money.
When the money was delivered to the driver by the one to whom it was entrusted, the answer which was evoked by the gift was "if he had only told me who he was, I would not have said anything."

Ever since the day after the affair occurred the driver had known the name of his passenger and had seen him many times since on the streets of this city. Jones has been wholly unaware that any one outside of the team had an inkling of his connection with the matter and had often passed the man from whom he and secured the free ride saying to himself, "if he only knew."

CIRCUS DAY HAS ITS ATTRACTIONS

SELLS-FOREPAUGH'S BIG SHOW IS HERE TODAY.

SMALL BOYS ARE DELIGHTED

How the Big Show Comes and Makes Ready for Its Parade.

It is safe to wager that not a small boy in town, unless he is sick, could not have told you before breakfast this morning just what time the circus arrived, how many cars it had, and how big the elephants were. He could have told you just what the "boss" canvasman said when he went to the grounds and just how the wagons were gotten off the cars and to the grounds. Circus day is a great day in a small boy's life.

The days of the old regime of circuses, the old clowns of the Dan Rice order are past. No more can the weary train of pilgrims be seen wandering along country roads at night, a long train of wagons with the elephants and their tired keepers plodding along and the camels chewing their cuds and thinking of bygone days of desert life. No more are the tired roustabouts curled upon the tops of flat wagons or the sleepy acrobats turned out to help over a bad road. The modern circus travels in cars propelled by the fastest engines of the roads it goes over. Not one car, nor twenty, but forty or fifty that have every accommodation. The acrobats climb into a comfortable berth when their day's work is over and awake in another state perhaps from which they went to sleep. A colored porter is on hand to look after their comforts, to make their beds, to black their boots and see to their linen.

The First Thing.
Early this morning the first train of the Sells-Forepaugh show arrived in Janesville. Long cars loaded down with canvas wagons, pole wagons, animal cages and cook wagons. Attached to it were sleeping cars for the canvasmen. While it is yet really one, one sees the "boss" canvasman swing easily off the car and start on a swinging trot or the circus grounds. A few minutes' inspection tells him just where the tents want to be pitched and he turns to the ready assistant and in a few orders designates just where the three rings are to be placed, where the center poles are to stand and where the slide shows are going to be.

Work Begins.
Already the wagons have begun to arrive. First those with stakes and poles for the sliding. Men are busy in an instant sledge in hand driving them firmly into the earth.

Then follows the canvas. Long rows of men are busily engaged in joining many strips of this useful article together, while others are unrolling the sidings and sorting the center poles. All is busy and excitement, but how orderly.

Cook Tents.
Meantime the cook wagons have been hauled to the grounds and fires lighted. The cooks are preparing the morning meal and by the time the canvas is ready and the center poles are in position to hoist, breakfast is ready. A rough and ready breakfast but hearty. Coffee steaming hot from clean kettles in clean cups. Bread and doughnuts are the menu. A hasty bite just to stand off hunger until the dinner later.

Separate Gangs.
Each tent has its separate gang and its separate foreman. Out of all the confusion comes order and at a word from the "boss" canvasman up goes the poles, up goes the canvas and the interior work is begun. Main in place, the seats arranged and the top, menagerie top and slide show top are all up. The sidings are being put up as all in order. Peanut stands, lemonade and pop corn boys are laying their stock.

The Animals.
Meantime the animal cages are being taken from the trains. No. 2 and No. 3 are both in now and one by one the wagons with the animals from the desert and the prairie and the woods are being taken from the cars and hauled to the grounds. The giant elephants with their almost human intelligence, and the giraff come in their special cars. The are led out with the zebras and camels and wend their way to the show grounds. The horses, great big fellows with wavy manes and tails, are busy hauling the heavy wagons. Six, eight and even ten are handled by one driver.

Elephants Used.
At the grounds stand row after row of animal cages ready to be placed. Now comes the intelligence and the strength of the elephants. These great big monstrosities are brought up and one is called out who easily pushes each wagon into its place as though it was but a straw. He waves his trunk as if to say, "That's nothing you ought to see me when I have to work." He looks so kind, so cunning, so strong one can not help but admire him.

The Parade.
Now comes the parade. This to the small boy is the greatest feature of the whole day. The tents are up the slides enclosed and there is not more for him to see until the show proper except the parade. All is bustle. The horses are groomed, the harness is rubbed up. The wagons are uncovered, the drivers dressed. A bugle blows and into line they fall. The big brass band with its many tunes in a gilded coach at the head. Bright uniforms and brighter wagons. Prancing horses and Roman chariots. Tiny ponies and giant elephants all line up and wait for the word to start for town. The small boy is in the seventh heaven of delight. He prances around everywhere, never heeding the warnings of look out. It is his day to be in the road and circus people understand it. They laugh and smile at his joy over the strange features.

Down Town.
The parade is off. Milwaukee street is crowded and Main street is one mass of humanity on tip toe to see the great show what it has to exhibit. Bands playing, banners flying and strange animals walking to and fro in their cages as though they would like to get out and eat you up. No wonder it is enticing to watch them and you become enthused with the circus idea.

The Dinner.
Back at the show grounds the parade is over. Theinery is laid away for another day and dinner is the next thing to be considered. The Sells-Forepaugh carry their own dining tent where his hundreds of employees are fed, sitting at big long tables every man to his own place. The food is good, well cooked and served by waiters who are as attentive to the wants of the patrons as though they were to be tipped well. Dinner is at twelve to give the time to digestion necessary. At two the show begins. A wild bewildering exhibit.

BROUGHT TO LIGHT

Janesville People Receiving The Full Benefit.

There have been many cases like the following in Janesville. Everyone relates the experience of people we know. These plain, straight, forward statements will do much toward relieving the suffering of thousands. Such testimony will be read with interest by many people.

Mr. E. T. Fish, of 355 Racine St., proprietor of the Fish Dry Line, says: "When I was twenty years of age I fell injured my back, and ever since that I was troubled more or less with a dull aching pain across the loins. It never laid me up but it was often painful and annoying. Of late years I have gone to a physician every six months and had myself thoroughly examined, under the impression that there might be something wrong with my kidneys. The diagnosis always resulting in the physician claiming these organs were sound, but as the pains existed when I happened to notice in our Janesville papers that Doan's Kidney Pills were guaranteed to cure just such troubles. I procured a box at the People's Drug Co.'s store, and took them. Doan's Kidney Pills are a good preparation. My back has not ached since I used them. I have heard others speak very complimentary of them and if I did not know their merit and required such a medicine I would consider it a favor if some one suggested their use to me. For this reason I endorse them."

Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

CROP THE BEST IN MANY YEARS

TOBACCO HARVEST WILL BE COMPLETED THIS WEEK.

BUYERS BEGIN TO GET BUSY

Several Large Contracts for Wisconsin in 1902 Crop Have Already Been Made.

The end of the present week will see the harvest of the 1901 crop of tobacco practically completed and one of the best crops in years will be shedded out of the way of frost and hail. The weather conditions during the past week have been first class, the only drawback having been the scarcity of labor, the farmers in some sections having been delayed some on this account.

The crop is fully up to the expectations of the growers, both in quantity and quality, and is sound and well matured. A rain would assist very materially in finishing off the later sheds and help in curing the earlier shedded leaf.

Vernon county seems to be the center of interest just at present. Buyers have been riding the county inspecting the fields, and quite a number of contracts, at prices ranging from ten to twelve cents have been placed. One authority states that at least 1,000 acres have already been contracted for, while others claim that this is greatly over-estimated. A dispatch to the United States Tobacco Journal from Viroqua, Wis., says: "Tat many tobacco buyers lingering around this section have been considerably stirred up, by finding that the buyers for E. Rosenwald & Bro., of New York, had suddenly set the ball rolling this week by buying heavily of the 1902 crop in this section and thus stealing a march on the little army of buyers for the big corporations, who for some time have been prowling around Vernon county to gobble up the crop."

This makes it look as if the big packers in New York did not intend to let the trust get all the cream of the present crop. While early buying is deplored by many, still it has a good effect in one direction. It gives the farmer warning that his crop is in good demand and braces him up to asking a good stiff price for it. The general impression among the conservative buyers is that there will be plenty of good tobacco in all sections this season, and for this reason there is no occasion for unreasonable buying. As yet but few large operators have taken the field, but the action of Rosenwald & Bro. is liable to start a rush.

There is little change in the cured leaf market. The sales are confined to small lots for the most part although a trifle better tone prevails and injuries are more frequent.

The general New York market during the past week has been as active as befits the occasion. The Western trade having been still continuing very brisk, as reported by our correspondents in the trade centres, the Western jobbers who are in the market are compelled to buy to meet demands. And they are buying not in every instance running lots, as has been the immemorial custom up to recent years, but mostly graded lots, chiefly light wrappers and light seconds. Of course, transactions under this mode of buying do not come up to the bulky quantities of former years, nor are they so easily traced. The Sumatra market is in excellent condition, too. It profits largely by the shortage of the domestic wrapper leaf supply. The Sumatra is being more courted now by the out-of-town buyers than in many years past. Though large transactions are few, nearly everybody takes a plunge at it with a view of repeating if not increasing his orders. Nearly 500 bales were thus contracted for during the week.

Every farmer announces that his latest crop is the best he ever raised, and tobacco growers in this section are no exception to the rule. They speak glowingly of the absence of worm holes, of the rapid growth, the good body of the leaf, and they even go so far as to claim that their crops enjoyed all the benefit to be derived from the dry, warm weather. While it is generally believed that the growing crop is doing as well as could be expected, it is admitted that the leaves are mostly of short and medium lengths, with a corresponding lack of the large variety.

Harvesting is now progressing in many parts of the tobacco growing country, and the growers profess to be entirely satisfied with their crop, as they have a right to be, for, considering the weather experienced until recently, the plants have certainly thriven wonderfully. The weather still refused to warm up, however, much to the disappointment of the farmers, who would like to see their later planted leaf ripen a little more rapidly. It is generally held, as we have said, that the crop is doing well, and growers are being advised to hold, pack and sort their own tobacco, unless their crop is not first rate. In that case they are advised to sell out at the best obtainable figure, and let others take the risk.

Women are vastly more patient than men. It is scarcely believable that a woman, suffering past all telling, can attend to business, and bend and stoop with a back whose ache is agony. And beyond all this she smiles as she bends and stoops about her customer. A man might swallow down an oath or keep back a groan, but his face would be like a thundercloud, and his voice scarcely disguise his irritation.

For women who suffer from backache, bearing-down pains, or other pains due to womanly diseases, there is no other medicine equal to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It regulates the womanly functions, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription" and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics. A vegetable preparation, it cannot disagree with the weakest constitution.

"I wish to thank you for the good thing you have done for me," writes Mrs. J. M. Brown, of Canton, Ill. "I was troubled with female weakness and with all kinds of different troubles. They did not help me; indeed, I got all the time, I had a very bad case of the uterus. What I suffered no tongue can tell. I had heavy bearing-down pains, and thought my back would kill me. I also had a very bad discharge, but after taking five bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' and three of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' I am feeling as well as ever. It has been almost two years and I have had no return of the trouble. My friends tell me I don't look as though I ever was sick."

"DAYTON RED" IS IN LAW'S TOILS

CHIEF HOGAN EASILY SPOTS THE NOTED CROOK.

HE IS A TOUGH CUSTOMER.

It is Said He Has Been Operating with the Show for Some Months Past

Chief Hogan received a tip last evening to be on the lookout for pickpockets and thieves that were following in the wake of the Forepaugh & Sells Bros. shows, as they had operated quite extensively in Marinette and other towns north of here where they showed. He was at once on the lookout for anyone that he had met during his term of service.

Dayton Red One of the bunch, "Dayton Red," an all around crook, came in last evening on the Fond du Lac passenger and was spotted by the chief when he got off the train. Red immediately ducked for down town and succeeded in keeping out of sight during the night. Hogan made the rounds of the hotels, but could get no trace of him. He took up the hunt again this morning and finally located the place he had stopped at during the night but found that he had gone down town.

Finds Him Hogan then went down town and took a horse and buggy and drove about the streets. About half past ten while going up West Milwaukee street he spied "Mr. Red" standing on the curb near Smith's drug store, smoking a pipe and looking as innocent as some farmer that had come in to see the parade.

Arrests Him These chief lost no time in taking him. The chief lost no time in taking him lock up where he will remain until after the show is out of town unless some other city wants him for some crooked work. In any event the chief will feel better having "Red" where he knows that he is safe until after the show.

"OLD ARKANSAW" AT MYERS GRAND

Some of the Comedy Work Was Good, and Kept the Audience in Laughter.

Aside from the comedy work of W. F. Conlan, and a few of the more ably managed situations in which F. O. Ireson figured in the title part, "Old Arkansaw" at the Myers Grand Wednesday night was rather a disappointment. It is true that the company is only two weeks on the road this season, and the play will doubtless acquire more of an easy-running, noiseless character than was displayed last night. At the same time, too many of the members of the cast have a woodenness in their acting which it will take a long time to eliminate.

Crowd Laughed Notwithstanding the evident imperfections of the drama, the audience was kept in a good humor by the uncouth actions of that "turned old fool" Jerry, as taken by Conlan, and Mary Slocum, the slob, played by Marie Arkwright. Others members of the cast would live up occasionally and meet the requirements of the play, but throughout the production the rough places were too apparent to be smoothed over by work of the stars.

Sensational Situations In the last act where truth crushed to earth began to bob up with a vengeance the heavy tragedy features were almost amusing. When the gentlemanly hold-up agent went through a series of wild contortions and fell dead on the stage at the hand of his "dearest friend" and his fair assassin followed suit, it was difficult to restrain a smile. The deadly earnestness of the characters in their purpose to clear the stage of the villains, was reminiscent of the grand slaughter-house act just before the curtain falls on the last act of Hamlet.

VETERAN CLOWN IS HERE WITH CIRCUS

Charles Seeley Can Tell Many Interesting Things of Life Under the Canvas.

Charles Seeley, one of the clowns with the Sells Bros. and Forepaugh Shows, is one of the oldest men in the business. Mr. Seeley has been on the road 47 years continuously with various tent organizations and the past twenty-five years has been associated with the enterprises in which Bailey of Barnum & Bailey fame, is interested.

Mr. Seeley knew Al. Smith of this city back in 1875 when they were with the same shows and was renewing acquaintances today. Seeley was one of the chief drawing cards back in the early day and was known from one end of the country to the other. He has not grown old in the business and is still able to make the best of actors look to their laurels.

Mr. Seeley says that he has fully determined each year to make that his last season. In the business but when the hands begin to play in the spring, he catches the fever and immediately joins the show, he advises the person who can get along without circus life, to do so, however, as the path is not all sunshine.

CIRCUS MAN IS HOME

Show With Which Thomas O'Neil Was Connected Has Disbanded

Thomas O'Neil has returned home from a season with the Gollmar Wagon shows. The company disbanded in the west, being forced to discontinue business, because the horses grew so thin that they could not draw the wagons. The season had been an especially hard one on the horses owing to the heavy condition of the roads caused by the frequent and hard rains.

LOST POCKETBOOK EXCITES POLICE

A Bank Employee Misses His Collection Book, But Finds It Later.

Some little excitement was caused this morning just before the parade by a report being made to the police that Leonard Johnson, an employee of the Rock County National Bank had lost his collection book out of his pocket while going up West Milwaukee street.

Making Collections Mr. Johnson had been out making his daily collections and had a considerable amount of money and a number of checks and drafts in the book. He had been to Spencer's shoe store with a collection and had then gone on up the street.

Misses Money He was certain that he put the book in his outside coat pocket when he left Spencer's and that it had been taken while he was going up the street.

Shortly after reporting the matter to the police he went back to Spencer's and found that he had left the book lying on the desk in the store. He was much relieved when he found it and the police were well pleased also.

Davey-Cook Miss Luella J. Davey of this city, and Herbert L. Cook of Madison, were united in marriage on Monday evening, Rev. Richard M. Vaughan, pastor of the Baptist church, being the officiating clergyman. The wedding, which took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Davey, 109 Pearl street, was a quiet home affair, only the immediate relatives being present. The bride is well-known in this city where she has grown to womanhood. She is a graduate of the Janesville High school being a member of the class of 1895. Both she and her husband are students at the University of Wisconsin, being members of the Senior class. They will make their home in Madison and will return to their studies in the University, graduating together next June. They have the best wishes of a host of friends.

SIGNATURE TO NOTE A FORGERY

JUDGE FIFIELD DECIDES IN FAVOR OF DEFENDANT.

SHE DID NOT SIGN THE NOTE

Chicago Woman Sues Mrs. Bacon, of Beloit, for $700 But Loses Suit.

The case of Emma Rothschild the payment of a $700 note was on trial all day yesterday in the Municipal court. The plaintiff in the case is a Chicago party and claimed that Mrs. Bacon gave the note to a doctor in Chicago who has since died.

Claims Note a Forgery. Mrs. Bacon claimed the signature was a forgery and that she never signed it. She proved by a number of witnesses that at the time the owners of the note said she was in Chicago she was in Beloit and no where near Chicago.

Said Saw Note Signed. The plaintiffs put up a strong case, one of the witnesses, a Chicago party, claiming he saw Mrs. Bacon when she signed the note and pointed her out in the court room.

Signatures Not Alike. The signature on the note and Mrs. Bacon's signature were compared and there was very little similarity between the two. The defense introduced expert testimony on this point and the witnesses did not hesitate to say that the signatures were not the same.

Finds For Defendant Judge Fifield, after weighing the testimony carefully, decided that the signature was not Mrs. Bacon's and was a forgery and therefore decided she was not liable to the note and ordered a judgment for the defendant. J. H. Dow of Beloit, and William Smith of this city appeared for Mrs. Bacon and T. D. Woolsey of Beloit appeared for the plaintiff.

THROUGH TRAINS TO KANSAS CITY

St. Paul Railroad Company Plans for Wisconsin Travel to West and South.

It has been stated that in a short time the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company will run through trains from Kansas City to Milwaukee by way of Beloit. It is understood that the change will be brought about at the time of opening the new cut off from Savannah to Muscatine. Then a number of new trains will be put on and it will be possible to make the through trip from Beloit or Milwaukee to California with only one change of cars.

The company has come to the conclusion that there is a fine business from the south which they might as well grab while there is an opportunity. With the new equipment it will be possible to put the road on a firm competitive basis with the other lines for the west and south.

BE SURE TO INVESTIGATE

The Ziegler Tailoring Department Will Stand the Closest Inspection. The most desirable goods in woolens for fall suits are ready for inspection at the Ziegler Tailoring department. Business and professional men who are particular about their clothing and those people who have been in the habit of placing clothing orders out of the city, will really act to their own best advantage by investigating our claims of superiority. In this department, we have entered the merchant tailoring business with a determination to secure and hold the best trade of this vicinity. We have spared no expense to equip ourselves and we have everything to offer that is advantageous. Mr. T. C. Zohn, our head cutter, is equal to the best in the country—a broad assertion, but a true one. Our tailors are all picked men, just as good as are to be found anywhere and with this force, there will be absolute satisfaction in every garment turned out. We make a specialty of business suits, full dress suits and Prince Alberts, and the buyer has the advantage of our being right here to remedy any thing or to make any desired change in clothing. We take pleasure in showing goods and wish you to feel free to call whether you intend purchasing or not. T. J. Ziegler. E. J. Smith, Manager.

MUCH ACTIVITY AT THE CANNERY

ALL DEPARTMENTS ARE RUNNING FULL FORCE.

CANNING OF CORN HAS BEGUN

Large Force of Employees Find it Almost Impossible to Handle the Produce.

Since the first of the week, the canning factory in Spring Brook has been going full blast in all departments. About one hundred and fifty hands were taken on the first of the week and work is now progressing.

On Monday the first operations were commenced in the corn department. So far all the corn that has been used has been from the Hughes and Fisher farms. The product of several other farms has been contracted for, and will begin to come in in a few days. Over one hundred hands are at work on the husking floor.

In the cucumber and cabbage departments there is no less industry. A large number of hands are at work from early in the morning until late at night and even then it is almost impossible to handle the quantities that are brought in both from farms in the immediate neighborhood and shipped by railroad from other towns.

IOWA DEMOCRATS SIDETRACK SILVER

CONDEMN THE BANKING BILL

Fowler Measure Declared to Be a Huge Scheme to Create an Immense Trust of the Financial Interests of the Country.

Secretary of state, Richard Burke. Auditor, J. S. McLean. Attorney General, John S. Denaton. Treasurer, R. V. Chapman. Supreme court judge, Thomas Stapleton. Supreme court judge (short term) W. H. Quick. Supreme court reporter, John Dalton. Supreme court clerk, Jesse Trippe. Railroad commissioner, Thomas Benton.

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 4.—The gold men captured the Democratic convention and defeated an attempt to reaffirm the silver plank of the Kansas City platform by a vote of 341 to 344. The resolution committee labored for over four hours to reach a compromise, and in the end sent two reports to the convention, where three more hours were spent in the fiercest floor fight known to the party in this state.

Victory for Boies. It was a great victory for Former Gov. Boies, for the platform as adopted was prepared by him and by him was read and defended on the floor of the convention.

When the resolutions committee began its labors it was discovered that no agreement could be reached on the silver plank, seven members standing against reaffirmation of the Kansas City declaration and four being for it, so the committee turned to the other sections of the platform as they had been prepared by Gov. Boies and all were agreed upon without change.

Wrangle Over Silver. The opening paragraph of the platform as proposed by Boies was as follows:

"That we reaffirm the fundamental principles of democracy as promulgated by the fathers of the republic at its birth and interpreted by the great leaders from the foundation of our government to the present time."

S. A. Brewster of the Sixth district, Stuart of the Eighth, Holly of the Seventh, and McDonald of the tenth opposed the compromise offered by Boies and offered the following in lieu thereof:

"The Democracy of Iowa indorse the principles of the democracy as enumerated by the last national platform adopted at Kansas City in 1900."

Denounce Fowler Bill. The platform as adopted declares anew faith in the fundamental principles of the democratic party and renews allegiance thereto, but this is as close as it comes to mentioning the Kansas City platform. It denounces the Fowler bill now pending in Congress as an attempt to convert the banking interests of the country into a huge financial trust, opposes government by injunction, finds fault with the administration's policy in the Philippines, renews the demand for the election of United States Senators by direct vote, demands equal taxation, declares for the repeal of the mullet law, and the enactment of a local option law.

Debate Is Warm. After the reading of the majority report by Gov. Boies, Col. Mackey of Sigourney took the floor against it, being cheered by the faction in the convention in sympathy with his views.

Gov. Boies followed, and it was plain from the demonstration which greeted his words as well as his appearance, that the silver cause would be defeated unless the leaders could do something to stem the tide. This they attempted to do, but without success, the eloquence of Gen. Weaver and the oratory of Walt Butler failing to have any effect.

Vote Is Unanimous. The speakers on the side of silver begged and even threatened that failure to reaffirm would send thousands of Democrats into the Republican ranks, but when the end of the fight was reached and the gold men had won, Butler, who had been most severe in his arraignment of the advocates of silence on the Kansas City platform, proposed that the vote to adopt the majority report platform be made unanimous and it was done with a whoop.

The ticket was nominated by acclamation.

Somnambulist Found Dangling in a Barn in Holland, Ind.

Holland, Ind., Sept. 4.—Fred Rademaker, a somnambulist, went to his cattle barn and hanged himself from one of the beams supporting the loft. His body was lifeless when it was discovered by one of the farmhands. His relatives and friends are at a loss to explain his suicide except on the theory that he, in a nightmare, adjusted the noose about his neck and stepped off a barrel found overturned near his suspended body.

For a month we used it once a day, after that twice to three times a week. All of our hair is much thicker than it was, and mine is fully seventeen inches longer. It seems the longer it gets the faster it grows. Are we using it to the very best advantage? Kindly answer at once.

EXTRA SESSION TO END COAL MINERS' STRIKE

Gov. Stone intimates it would be less costly than to maintain the militia.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 4.—Governor W. A. Stone declared that in his opinion a law could be drafted that would settle disputes arising between labor and capital. Gov. Stone declined to discuss politics and he was no more communicative when asked to comment on the strike in the anthracite coal region.

Regarding a possible solution of differences arising between labor and capital he said:

"A law that would settle labor disputes between employer and employee must of necessity be a compulsory arbitration law, and the award must be final and conclusive. This law must be drafted for the protection of society, and must not be drawn in the interest of employer and employee.

"An extra session of the legislature would cost the state less money than it is costing to maintain the militia in the anthracite region to prevent and suppress riots."

In these words Gov. W. A. Stone indicates his purpose to call an extra session of the Pennsylvania legislature and try to end the strike.
